Artist Statement

The piece I submitted "Collar for Argent" began as a tribute to one of my best friends. Argent was a silver Afghan Hound, very graceful, full of intelligence and personality. When she died several years ago something was unfinished in my heart and in my mind. I knew I would resolve that feeling but I didn't know how or when.

Clay has always been an expressive medium that I enjoy working with from time to time, I especially like the immediate action between hand and mind. The resulting forms may have been subconscious suggestions of fragments or charred glyphs or tablets with inscribed messages on each piece. It may be my final message to her. It could tell a story of the time we shared together. It might describe her beauty or loyalty. It may still cry for a loss.

The sterling silver ring was selected to symbolize the infinite love and to also honor her namesake.

Assembling all these pieces thoughts and feelings in the form of a collar may signify a continuation, or a sense of closeness through the use of symbols.
